

Point to Point region creation

When using the creation tool, the cursor will change into a cross. Each left-click will add another corner to the closed region space. To finish adding points to the region, double-click where you would like the final point to be.